From Our President

Our current officers have only four more months to serve you in our current capacities. I will continue to press on with the projects that I've undertaken in the last year. I will continue to work toward completion of the Acquinton Church project, along with those projects related to the Church after completion. I can also be counted upon to continue to maintain and add content to our website.

My attention and focus will also shift to the museum, as chairman of the collections committee, and other museum duties. I believe we can present this wonderful place to our regional public by the use of the newspapers and collaboration with our sister county museums. We are very lucky to have this museum and I'm very proud of all the work done by the museum committee for the achievements to date.

So, as we come out of hibernation from this extraordinary winter, I'm hoping to see you all involved in some way with our activities. Which reminds me.....I will be calling together a work crew very soon for a three hour spruce-up of the Aylett cemetery.

We will also be counting on your support for the Spring Membership Fund Drive, which will be coming up in April and continuing through the summer. These donations will be used to cover expenses for upcoming projects such as the new county map of old homes, sites, ruins, mills and historic places, presented to us by Mr. Bibb Edwards. The funds will also be used to help position the KWHS to become an instrument in the repair of the old jail, pending county inclusion in the process. - Lloyd Huckstep

GRAVATT'S MILL

Our long time member, Mr. William Gravatt, passed in November of last year. His family was the owner and operator of Gravatt's Mill, which was located in western King William on Etna Mills's road. When the mill was demolished years ago, Mr. Gravatt acquired a section of the steel mill wheel. By way of his will and his daughter, Sandra Gravatt, they have presented this mill wheel section to our Historical Society, along with an 18 by 14 framed painting of the mill, and a 28 by 24 framed copy of the plat of the Gravatt tract showing the mill and mill pond in detail. We are very grateful for these gifts and to the Gravatt family for having shared their family history with the KWHS.

We must begin a study to record a history of the old mills throughout King William County. With the presentation of the Gravatt mill material, we have a wonderful starting point.

January Meeting Presentation

Our guest speaker was David Brown, co-owner of DATA Investigations; an archeological company dedicated to researching and managing excavation projects in Virginia. He presented their archeological findings at the Chief Powhatan Capital Village and the Fairfield Manor Plantation Site. The graphic presentation was excellent and the information was interesting and educational.

David recently gave this same lecture at the Virginia Historical Society as part of the "Banner Lecture Program."

King William Historical Museum

The King William Historical Museum will open on March 6 following a winter recess. There is now a new sign at the Old Court House complex to welcome visitors traveling down Route 30. We hope this addition and our plans for new exhibits this summer will bring more traffic to the museum.

The most complete book on King William County and its historic surroundings is the two-volume book by Dr. Malcolm Harris – “Old New Kent County.” The museum has been able to obtain a discount and is offering them to Society members at cost, which is $115. You can obtain your copy by contacting Carl Fischer or Ruth Armatage.

We are in constant need of volunteers of all kinds and we also have openings on the Museum Council. If you feel like you want to be part of the organization that keeps King William County’s past alive, please contact Carl Fischer at 843-9194 or Pat Fitzgerald at 769-3919. - Carl Fischer

Project Status

• Acquinton Church Stabilization

Mr. Walker and his crews continue to forge ahead with the work to complete the project. Weather has hampered the progress and time frame, but all the outside brickwork is complete. All brick brought from the Marlmont site was used, and some brick has been reclaimed from the glebe ruins next door to the church to be used as interior fill.

Steel is due to arrive soon to be used to tie together the structure to support the roof. Mr. Walker says completion will be late spring.

• Historical Map

Mr. Bibb Edwards has done a great job with identifying many of our counties historic sites but we need volunteers to verify what he has and identify additional sites. Can you help?

• Save the Old County Jail

We continue to work with the county to encourage allocation of funds for repairing and renovating the historic jail located on the old county courtyard.

Time is taking its toll on the roof that has partially collapsed. Have a suggestion? Let us know !

Middle Peninsula Garden Tour

This year The Garden Club of the Middle Peninsula will sponsor tours in King William County. The tours are Friday, April 23, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

THE TOUR: The successful development of any community depends on its resources and its accessibility to transportation. The Mattaponi and Pamunkey Rivers, which form the boundaries of King William County, played a large part in the development of the county. Histories of the houses on this tour are all intricately woven with the rivers. While most properties no longer serve in their original capacity, all stands as reminders of times gone by and hope for times to come.

- CHERICOCHE, circa 1828 on the Pamunkey River
- WAKEMA, circa 1860 on the Mattaponi River

- LESTER MANOR VILLAGE, recent reconstruction of a village to represent the old Lester Manor Railroad Station Village
